BJECT Technical Bureau of the Soviet Ministry for the Chemical Industry, Berlin-Weissensee 25X1 SUPPLEMENT 25X1 The Technical Eureau of the Soviet Ministry for the Chemical Industry, located in Berlin-Weissensee at Goethestrasse 13, 1s headed by the Oil Yesta who is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory admit is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory admit is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory admit is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory admit is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory admit industry. The Bureau collects and integrates all information on automatic disturbances, adjustments, and testing procedures insofar as these concern the chemical Industry. 2. The bureau slss is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from Ambrican originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants renoved to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close Isaison is maintained with such plants as the I.Q. Farben works at Bitterful and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Sismens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for geomony reasons, in February; these included Director Guide Winsch and Oberlugenieur Plis, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nati Party members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberlugenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania and described as a "Pezzkalist tir Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Muriendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.	• ITELLOFÅ	1 24	INTELLIG	ENCE REPO	DRT		25X 1		امریکار این را
Sign 25X1 Supplement X1. The Technical Eureau of the Seviet Ministry for the Chemical Industry, located in Berlin-Weissensee at Goethestrasse 13, 15 headed by Lt Col Vasta, who is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory administration office in Moscow. The Bureau collects and integrates all information on automatic disturbances, adjustments, and testing procedures insofar as these concern the chemical industry. 2. The bureau slss is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from Ambrican originals, Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close Haison is maintained with such plants as the LG. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Sismens, Askania, and other concern have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for accoming reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Winsch and Oberingeniour Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Mari Party membrrs, are injet Ings. Sach, Bokking, Groim, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are sell former Askania employees. Schröder, The first four men are sell former Askania employees. Schröder, The first four men are sell former Askania employees. Schröder, The first four men are sell former Askania employees. Schröder, The first four men are sell former Askania employees. Schröder, The first four men are sell former Askania employees. Schröder to so formerly with Askania and inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut fro			a Zone			DATE:		25X1	141
AT THE Technical Eureau of the Seviet Ministry for the Chemical Industry, located in Berlin-Weissensee at Osethestrasse 13, 15 headed by Lt Col Vesta, who is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory saministration office in Moscow. The Bureau collects and integrates all information on automatic disturbances, adjustments, and testing procedures insofar as these concern the chemical industry. 2. The bureau also is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSE. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close Haison is maintained with such plants as the I.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leura-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for aconomy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Winsch and Oberlingenieur Plis, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Mari Party membrys, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Bekking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberlingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder in Regler", was at some time "an inspector with Askania and described as a "Epezialist fit Regler", was at some time "an inspector with Maerican troops in Muriendorr". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to	BJECT	Technical Bureau	of the Soviet M	inistry for	•	DIST	X July	1017
XI. The Technical Eureau of the Soviet Ministry for the Chemical Industry, located in Berlin-Weissensee at Goethestrasse 13, is headed by Lt Col West, who is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory administration office in Moscow. The Bureau collects and integrates all information on automatic disturbances, adjustments, and testing procedures insofar as these concern the chemical industry. 2. The bureau also is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close liaison is maintained with such plants as the I.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for sconomy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Winsch and Oberlingenlow Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Mazi Farty members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohm, Riedel, and Oberlingenlowr C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with askania and described as a "Fpezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.			iustry, berlin-we	18560 66 0			at very	/mg 1
X1. The Technical Eureau of the Soviet Ministry for the Chemical Enduatry, located in Berlin-Weissensee at Goethestrasse 13, 1s headed by Lt Col Westa, who is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory administration office in Moscow. The Jureau collects and integrates all information on automatic disturbances, adjustments, and testing procedures insofar as these concern the chemical industry. 2. The bureau also is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who concerts with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close Maison is maintained with such plants as the L.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Joue men employed by the bureau were discharged, for sconomy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Winsch and Oberfugenieur File, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Mazi Farty members, are: Dipl. Ings. Each, Beking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberfugenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Popzialist rur Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Muriendorr". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.	IIGIN	20/(1	1	0EV4		SUPPLEM	ENT
X1. The Technical Bureau of the Scviet Ministry for the Chemical Industry, located in Berlin-Weissensee at Coethestrasse 13, 1s headed by Lt Col Vesta, who is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory administration office in Moscow. The Bureau collects and integrates all information on automatic disturbances, adjustments, and testing procedures insofar as these concern the chemical industry. 2. The bureau also is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooberate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close liaison is maintained with such plants as the L.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werk, and specialists from Siemers, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Winsch and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nazi Farty members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grome, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a 'Fpezialist für Regler', was at some time 'an inspector with American troops in Mariendorr''. 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.				2581
X1. The Technical Bureau of the Scviet Ministry for the Chemical Industry, located in Berlin-Weissensee at Coethestrasse 13, 1s headed by Lt Col Vesta, who is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory administration office in Moscow. The Bureau collects and integrates all information on automatic disturbances, adjustments, and testing procedures insofar as these concern the chemical industry. 2. The bureau also is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooberate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close liaison is maintained with such plants as the L.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werk, and specialists from Siemers, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Winsch and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nazi Farty members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grome, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a 'Fpezialist für Regler', was at some time 'an inspector with American troops in Mariendorr''. 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.
X1. The Technical Bureau of the Scviet Ministry for the Chemical Industry, located in Berlin-Weissensee at Coethestrasse 13, 1s headed by Lt Col Vesta, who is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory administration office in Moscow. The Bureau collects and integrates all information on automatic disturbances, adjustments, and testing procedures insofar as these concern the chemical industry. 2. The bureau also is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooberate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close liaison is maintained with such plants as the L.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werk, and specialists from Siemers, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Winsch and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nazi Farty members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grome, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a 'Fpezialist für Regler', was at some time 'an inspector with American troops in Mariendorr''. 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.	THE STIE	14
X1. The Technical Eureau of the Scviet Ministry for the Chemical Industry, located in Berlin-Weissensee at Goethestrasse 13, 13 headed by Lt Col Vesta, who is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory administration office in Moscow. The Bureau collects and integrates all information on automatic disturbances, adjustments, and testing procedures insofar as these concern the chemical industry. 2. The bureau also is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close Haison is maintained with such plants as the LG. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for geonomy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Winsch and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Mazi Party members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a 'Fpezialist rir Regler', was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.	TATE		105 B 2 5 0 2 1
Industry, located in Berlin-Weissensee at Goethestrasse 13, 1s headed by Lt Col Vesta, who is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory administration office in Moscow. The Bureau collects and integrates all information on automatic disturbances, adjustments, and testing procedures insofar as these concern the chemical industry. 2. The bureau also is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close liaison is maintained with such plants as the I.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Wünsch and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Mazi Party members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Spezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Muriendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.		7701 10071	iot Net Cal	AAR	alan ing district day to the second s		*************************************
Industry, located in Berlin-Weissensee at Goethestrasse 13, 1s headed by Lt Col Vesta, who is reported to be the director of the Ministry's factory administration office in Moscow. The Bureau collects and integrates all information on automatic disturbances, adjustments, and testing procedures insofar as these concern the chemical industry. 2. The bureau also is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close liaison is maintained with such plants as the I.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Wünsch and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Mazi Party members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Spezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Muriendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.						-2-of the Ministry's factory administration office in Moscow. The Bureau collects and integrates all information on automatic disturbances, adjustments, and testing procedures insofar as these concern the chemical industry. 2. The bureau slso is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSN. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close Idaison is maintained with such plants as the I.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Worke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Wünsch and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Mazi Farty members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Spezialist fir Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Muriendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.	X11.	The Technical	Bureau of the	Scylet M	inistr	y for t	he Che	mical
The Ministry's factory administration office in Moscow. The Bureau collects and integrates all information on automatic disturbances, adjustments, and testing procedures insofar as these concern the chemical industry. 2. The bureau also is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who concerate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close Haison is maintained with such plants as the L.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Winsch and Oberlugenieur Plis, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nazi Farty members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberlugenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Epezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.		industry, local	ated in Herlin Ut Col Vesta	-Welssens who is re	ee at (norted	Goethes to be	trasse	13, these concern the chemical industry. 2. The bureau also is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSF. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close liaison is maintained with such plants as the L.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Wünsch and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Mazi Party members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohm, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Spezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.		of the Ministr	rv's factory a	iministra	tion o	rfice f	rs Macon	CYNT
2. The bureau also is trying to develop pneumatic regulators and some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close liaison is maintained with such plants as the I.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Winsch and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Mazi Party members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Spezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.		disturbances.	liects and inte adjustments.a	egrates a od testin	ll info	ormatio Sdures	n on a	utomatic some models have been made, partly from American originals. Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close liaison is maintained with such plants as the I.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Wünsch and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nazi Farty members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohm, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Fpezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.		these concern	the chemical	industry.	5 proc.	Junios	711201 G	r, oro	, Reconstruction plans are being drawn for gasoline and hydrogen plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close liaison is maintained with such plants as the I.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Wünsch and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nazi Party members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach. Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Spezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.	2,,	The bureau als	so is trying to	develor	preum	atic re	gulato	rs and	• plants removed to the USSR. Manufacturing processes are being studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close liaisen is maintained with such plants as the I.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Winsch and Oberingenteur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nazi Party members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Spezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.		some models na	ive been made.	rartly f	rom Ame	mican :	nripin.	ചിയ studied through the employment of middle men, who cooperate with German technicians now working in German industries. 3. Close liaison is maintained with such plants as the I.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Wünsch and Oberlugenteur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nazi Farty members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Tpezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Marienderf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.		prants removed	i to the USSR.	Manufac	turing	proces	SAS AT	a haina
Close liaison is maintained with such plants as the I.G. Farben works at Bitterfeld and the Leuna-Werke, and specialists from Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Winsch and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nazi Farty members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Epezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.		studied throug	th the employme	ent of mid	dle me	n. who	comme	ra fo
Siemens, Askania, and other concerns have been interrogated. Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for economy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Wünseh and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nazi Party members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Spezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.		V
Some men employed by the bureau were discharged, for sconomy reasons, in February; these included Director Guido Winsch and Oberingenieur Pils, both of Askania. 4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nazi Farty members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Fpezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.	3 ¢	Works at Bitte	is maintained erfeld and the	with such	ı plani °ke. er	s as ti	ne I.G.	Farben
The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nazi Party members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Spezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.		olemens, Askan	11a, and other o	oncerns l	art aver	en inte	propaga	had.
4. The bureau currently employs two Soviet scientists, five German technicians, eight skilled workers and approximately sixty other persons. The technicians, all said to be former Nazi Party members, are: Dipl. Ings. Bach, Böcking, Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Spezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks.		reasons, in re	oruary: these	included	discha	irged, i	for eco	onomy sch and classification seems been cut from 250,000 to CHANGE In Class. Declassified CHANGED TO: TS S C		Oberingenieur	Pils, both of	Askania.		JOE GMEN	AC ROUX	our diffe classification seems been cut from 250,000 to CHANGE In Class. Declassified CHANGED TO: TS S C	4 .	The bureau cur	rently employs	two Sovi	et sci	entists	i. five	German
CLASSIFICATION SECRETARY OF BOCKING Grohn, Riedel, and Oberingenieur C. Schröder. The first four men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Spezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks. CLASSIFICATION SECRETARY OF BOCKMAN		technicians, e	light skilled w	orkers ar	id appr	orimate	alw als	tw athor
CLASSIFICATION SECTION OF THE FIRST FOUR men are all former Askania employees. Schröder, also formerly with Askania and described as a "Spezialist für Regler", was at some time "an inspector with American troops in Mariendorf". 5. The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks. CLASSIFICATION SECTION OF THE PROPERTY OF THE		members, are:	Dini Inca P	ach BRol	rano 13	Tankan D	7 S
classification sector. DEFERENCE UNITED DEADS cument No. O CHANGE in Class. DECLASSIFIED lass. CHANGED TO: TS S C		Observingshireor	v. ochroder.	The first	: tour	man 5 700	. e 17 f	* 6"% 270 353 /% WB
The bureau's monthly budget has been cut from 250,000 to 200,000 marks. CLASSIFICATION SECTION SECTIO		described as a	"opezialist f	ür Regler	Was	st son	e time	ano "an	1
CLASSIFICATION SECTION	* 4	Inspector with	American troo	ps in Mar	'lendor	f" o			- [
CLASSIFICATION SECTION	5.	The bureau's m	onthly budget	has been	cut fr	om 250,	,000 to	t.
ocument No. O O CHANGE in Class. DECLASSIFIED lass. CHANGED TO: TS S C		Loogood marks. ocument No. O O CHANGE in Class. DECLASSIFIED lass. CHANGED TO: TS S C								* *
ocument No. O O CHANGE in Class. DECLASSIFIED lass. CHANGED TO: TS S C		4.,	·						11-11-ocument No. O O CHANGE in Class. DECLASSIFIED lass. CHANGED TO: TS S C			COAL	المحمدان	and the second second second second second	y and the second section of the		HONADVI
ocument No. O O CHANGE in Class. DECLASSIFIED lass. CHANGED TO: TS S C		CLASS	SIFICATION CE	ERA- IN	EEEDE	1011	WITK	LIDKAKI!
0 CHANGE in Class. DECLASSIFIED Lass. CHANGED TO: TS S C		/λ	SECTOR		t I I.Ni	IVUL UL	-1.1.1 lmi\		l .
DECLASSIFIED Lass. CHANGED TO: TS S C			***************************************
	DECLA	SSIFIED	\frown	γ	n a	$^{J}\mathcal{R}$
DDA Memo, 4 Apr 77 25X1				•	1	ω
	-2	Approved I	For Release 2003/08	/07 : CIA-RD	P82-0045	7R000700	0140012-	0	